What is you Tube?

YouTube is Google's video sharing community.

In the Beginning

- YouTube was created in February 2005 by three former PayPal employees.
- The first YouTube video was titled “Meet at the Zoo.”
- “Meet at the Zoo” is 19 seconds long and has been viewed over 41 million times.
- By July 2006, 65,000 videos were uploaded each day to YouTube.
- In November 2006 Google purchased YouTube for $1.65 billion.

YouTube Account

YouTube is owned by Google.
If you have any Google account,
you can use that account to log onto YouTube.

Account Settings—Connected TVs

- 1 Launch YouTube on your TV device.
- 2 Navigate to settings and select "Link TV and Phone."
- 3 Enter the blue TV code shown on your TV into the box below.

YouTube: Consumption and Production

There are two sides to YouTube: consumption and production. YouTube is unique because it allows users to both view content and to create content. Becoming a content creator doesn't require any special permission--all you need is a Google account and a video file to upload.

YouTube Stats

- Over 15 billion users watch YouTube each month.
- Over 5 billion videos viewed on YouTube every day.
- Over 5 billion hours of video viewed per day on YouTube.
- Over 300 hours of video are uploaded to YouTube each minute.

Streaming Video

Streaming video is the technology that allows you to immediately view video files without first downloading them.

Downloading YouTube Videos

In general, downloading videos that other people have posted on YouTube is not supported.
